Rev. Green – Electronic Press Kit (EPK)

One-Line Pitch

Rev. Green deliver foot-stomping blues, folk, Americana and spirituals—up-tempo, familiar, and built for rooms that love to sing along, enriched by driving rhythms, soaring fiddle and vibrant acoustic arrangements.

Band Bio (Short)

Rev. Green are a seasoned five/six-piece acoustic band rooted in blues, folk, Americana and spirituals. Known for their warm stagecraft, rich musicianship and driving rhythms, they turn festivals, pubs, clubs and community halls into sing-along and dance-along spaces. Their sets balance well-loved standards with some originals, keeping the energy high and the atmosphere welcoming.

Band Bio (Long)

Formed in March 2024 and based in Wimborne, Rev. Green bring together six experienced musicians with deep roots in the UK folk and acoustic scene. Their sound blends blues grit, folk storytelling, Americana grooves and spirituals—usually up-tempo and immediately accessible.

The band features Rev. Steve Utley (mandolin, mandocello, tenor guitar), Jeremy Green (guitar, bouzouki), Nat Morris (banjo, tenor banjo, guitar), Andy Bridgeman (bass), Jayne Chalke (percussion) and recent addition Stefan Defilet (fiddle/violin), whi brings exceptional musicianship and expressive range to the band's sound.

Rev. Green have played at venues and events including Wimborne Minster Folk Festival Square Stage, The Big Camp Out Festival, plus The Old Thatch, The Oddfellows Arms, The Tap House, The Portsmouth Hoy, Brunny Folk and Wimborne Food Festival, alongside regular local showcases.

With a reputation for engaging audiences and reading the room, Rev. Green are as comfortable leading a packed pub chorus as they are delivering a listening-room set. Between them, the six members bring decades of live performance, recording, touring and production experience, creating a band grounded in musicianship, professionalism and genuine love for the craft.
